THE SENTINEL.

Thursday, November 8, 1866.

[From Surry of Eagle's Nest.]

A Feat of Horsemanship in Winchester by General Ashby.

In falling back Jackson left absolutely nothing behind for his adversary. Everything was removed, and the laughing infantry greeted with jests and cheers an enormous railway engine, which, drawn by a long string of horses, moved on with the rest.

Jackson remained last, and his critical eyes peered in every direction, to discover whether anything had been forgotten.

"Is everything removed, Major?" he said to his chief quartermaster, Major Harman.

"Everything, General."

"No commissary stores whatever are left?"

"None, General."

"And those broken cars at the depot?"

"They cannot be moved."

"Burn them, Major."

"I will, at once, sir."

"And the telegraph wire?"

"Is cut, sir."

"But, is it removed?"

"No, General."

"Remove it Major."

Jackson then added: "Take your time. I am in no hurry to leave Winchester."

Soon the broken cars were burning, the wire was rolled up and placed in wagons, and the work was complete.

"Very good," said Jackson, when the report was brought to him; and he sat down under a tree, and folding his hands across his breast, fell quietly asleep.

He had been up all night, and never was able to go without sleep.

The steady approach of the firing now indicated that the enemy was pressing Ashby closely near the suburbs of the town. I rode in that direction, and reaching the rising ground at the head of Loudoun street, where the remains of the old fort, built by Major George Washington about 1756, may still be seen, encountered the cavalry, falling back in good order before the Federal advance. The rear guard, under the personal command of Ashby, who was mounted on a snow-white horse, was disputing obstinately every foot of ground; the main column meanwhile defiling through the streets to form in line south of the town.

I had just reached this point when a sudden rush of the Federal cavalry broke through the rear-guard, and before I knew it, almost, I was by Ashby's side, in the midst of a squadron of blue-coats, banging away with their pistols, and slashing with sabres. The sweep of Ashby's weapon was magnificent, and he seemed to launch himself from the saddle at every blow. He and his splendid animal seemed one, and it is impossible to describe his face. It was on fire,—the eyes blazed,—he looked happy.

I had no time to bestow upon him more than a glance, however. A sabre cut nearly unseated me, and the blue cordon was all around us, when a determined charge from one of Ashby's squadrons drove back the enemy, and he chased them two hundred yards north of the place.

"I don't like to be crowded."

And placing himself at the head of his men he waved his sword, and cried in a clear, calm voice, strikingly in contrast with his irate appearance:

"Follow me."

Those clear accents seemed to thrill the men. They responded with a wild cheer, and driving his white horse to a furious speed, Ashby burst the Federal line like a tornado.

Before the furious onslaught, so sudden and desperate, the enemy's cavalry gave way. Ashby was in front of his line, cutting right and left with the sabre; and when, a few minutes afterward, he came back, his white horse dancing on all four feet, as the nervous hand reined him in amid a shower of balls, his face was calmer—for the moment he seemed satisfied.

He continued to retire slowly, and reached the suburbs of the town. The enemy did not at once move forward. The Confederate cavalry passed through, and it was not until I reached the Southern suburbs that I missed Ashby.

Turning, I saw him seated on his white horse in the middle of Loudoun street, looking quietly at the Federal cavalry and infantry pouring into the place. It is impossible to conceive anything more calmly indifferent than his attitude. He seemed to have taken his place there to witness some peaceful pageant, and to regard the advance of the Federal masses, now nearly in contact with him, with languid curiosity.

All at once some shots were fired at him, but he took no notice of them. This seemed to enrage the enemy, and a detachment charged him at full gallop, firing as they came.

Ashby waved his hat around his head, uttered a cheer, and then, drawing his revolver, galloped off, firing as he went.

He had nearly reached the suburbs, when suddenly I saw two Federal cavalrymen issue from a side street, and post themselves in the middle of the street to intercept him. I rode rapidly forward to warn him of his danger; but it was not necessary. He turned, saw them, and charged the two men, with a glow of unmistakable pleasure upon his features. One fell, shot through the heart; then his barrels being all emptied, he seized the second by the throat.

I then witnessed one of those spectacles which are supposed to be confined to romance. Borne on at a furious speed upon his powerful white horse, Ashby dragged his adversary clear out of his saddle, never relaxing his clutch, and in a moment was beyond pursuit, still dragging his prisoner by the side of his horse.

A cheer rose from his men as Ashby released the prisoner, and coolly looked to the disposition of his command. His face was again calm, the sad expression had come back, and when he said, "Well, Major, they are laughing at us yonder, I suppose by this time," his voice was as sweet and gentle as when speaking of his dead brother.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in "HARRISON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS," the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 1, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VINCENT A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PEDEN, / Editors.
SEATON GALES. \

Thursday Evening, Nov. 8, 1866.

IT IS A PROFITLESS, as it would be an interminable task, to expose the ever recurring outrages of the Standard. We confess our utter inability to do justice to the subject. At home its influence for evil is powerless. At the North, it has done, and is doing, us great harm. That, however, is its too evident purpose.

Knowing, therefore, its status in North Carolina, we shall not cumber our columns with daily refutations of its libels. Were we to attempt to notice them all, we should not have space or time for aught else. We prefer labors more profitable and congenial. But for the information of those who do not read the organ of Radicalism in this State, we make the following grouping of some of its later utterances, that they may see the lengths to which it is going:

It publishes, in its issue of the 6th., a communication, over the signature of "Restoration," without dissent from the views of the writer, in which negro suffrage is indirectly, if not positively, advocated;

It endeavors to frighten the people into the support of the Howard amendment, by threatening the abrogation of all pardons and a consequent insecurity of all titles to real-estate;

It repeats the slander that Union men and negroes are the objects of persecution and hostility in the State;

It declares the civil authorities inadequate to the protection of life and property; and, therefore, it wants martial law and more troops in the State;

It pronounces the "reconstructed State government" a failure; and, therefore, it desires that it should be remanded to a provisional or territorial condition;

It deplores the immunity from punishment enjoyed by what it calls "conscious traitors." Knowing what it means by that designation, it is plain that it would like to see a pretty general system of hanging and confiscation employed.

This is some of the poison. The antidote will be found in the destestation of all good and true Southern Union men.

ON DIT.—That a negro regiment is to be brought to this City, in the course of a few days, for the purpose of being mustered out. We sincerely hope that the rumor is without foundation.—Sentinel.

If a negro regiment should be mustered out here, it is fair to presume that the General in command will see to it that they conduct themselves properly, should they show a disposition not to do so. Wherefore this attempt to excite prejudice against colored men? These colored troops, if mustered out here, will probably trade in our stores and shops, and leave a considerable amount of greenbacks among us.—

That "head centre" of all mischief in North Carolina, only second to Beelzebub himself, the Standard, thus perverts a short and very plain paragraph of the Sentinel.

We presume the dullest reader of our columns perfectly understood us. Our remark was prompted by a regard for the welfare of both races. There are already here more colored men than can find profitable employment. This is palpable to every one. Our own colored population, that being here, are more entitled to our sympathy than strangers, and unless there was employment for all, we prefer that our own people should be sustained. Moreover, the colored regiments were not mustered into the service here. If brought here to be disbanded, they, soldier-like, would spend their money, and in a few weeks would be unable to get home. Indeed, we learn that a white Federal soldier has remarked here, that the object of bringing the negro regiments South to disband is that they are not wanted at the North, and that, once here, they cannot get back. Further, our police find but little difficulty in managing our present population, white or black, but a large addition of any class of men, who cannot find employment, would greatly increase their difficulties.

THE Standard has such a bad opinion of us, (for which we cannot sufficiently express our grief,) that it could not be induced, under any circumstances, it intimates, to "vote" for us for anything. Holden says that he would "vote" for Gen. Cox before he would vote for us. Considering the estimate in which he holds us, (for which again we must pause to weep awhile,) our gallant friend, the General, will hardly take the declaration as a compliment.

If we never get Holden's "vote" until we ask for it, the "crack o' doom" will find us without that most damaging support. The support of the Standard has killed its hecatombs. Here in North Carolina its support is justly regarded as an evil as devoutly to be dreaded as the cholera or the small-pox. Its support is like the poisonous exhalation of the Upas,—death to all that pass under it. All that is necessary to secure the defeat of any man is to get the Standard to endorse him,—and lo! the thing is done. What a precious showing this is, to be sure!

"When the worst comes, as it certainly will, remember our warning. Do not hold us responsible for what is in reserve for you."—Standard.

If the worst should come, you will be, and deservedly be, held as much responsible for it as any man in the country. To say nothing of your having taught secession for years before the war, you have persistently invited Radical aggression since the war. Whatever of bitterness exists towards North Carolina, for alleged "disloyalty," has been more your work than that of any other man South of Mason and Dixon's line,—Brownlow and Hamilton not excepted.

TWO NEGROES are elected to the Legislature of Massachusetts. This is Radical theory reduced to practice, and this is what the Radicals would force upon the South. In electing negroes to represent them, these Puritan Radicals virtually admit them to be their own equals in morality and intelligence. No one will contest the point.

Vermont's Condition of Union.

A few days ago, Mr. WALDO BRIGHAM, the leader of the Conservatives in the Lower House of the Vermont Legislature, offered the following resolution:

Whereas, It is most desirable that the Union of all the States should become perfect at the earliest moment consistent with the peace and welfare of the nation, that every State should become fully represented in the national councils, and take its share in the legislation of the country; and,

Whereas, The possession and exercise of more than the just share or power by any section is injurious, and its tendency is distracting and demoralizing, as well to that section as to all others; therefore,

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives, That if the Southern States, lately in insurrection, will adopt, in order to terminate our national difficulties, the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, proposed by Congress to the Legislatures of the several States, on the 13th day of June, 1866, no further conditions should be required to entitle the Southern States to be immediately and fully represented in the national councils, except that their representatives be loyal men.

Of course, Mr. BRIGHAM'S resolution was not expressive of his sentiments, or those of any Conservative in Vermont. He believes in no conditions of representation, except the right of representation under the forms prescribed by the supreme law. But he gave the Vermont Legislature a chance to say to the South, with as much weight as their voice carries: "Pass HOWARD'S amendments, "and you shall have representation in Congress without further conditions except loyalty in the individual representative."

On the 31st of October the representatives of Vermont voted this preamble and resolution down, thus declaring the amendment not a condition of Union, and adopted one declaring the ten States out of the Union, and that they should not enter the Union except on the condition of universal suffrage! What says the Standard? Does he "go it" with his Vermont brethren and allies?

Information Wanted.

Our Newbern cotemporaries have published several accounts of outrages committed in the lower Counties of a diabolical and wicked character. It is represented that bands of desperadoes are committing these outrages, upon all classes and colors. So far as we can learn, no organized effort has been made to arrest them. We believe the civil authority is ample to put them down and break them up. Recently a correspondent of the Washington Chronicle, writing from Newbern, but who, we are inclined to think, resides in Washington city, urged that two or three thousand cavalry are needed in this State for the preservation of order. To-day, the Standard utters the same sentiments, which we believe unwarranted by the facts. If this state of things exists, Gov. Worth has received no official information of it, and it is proper that the civil authorities in those Counties should lodge with him correct information about the matter. We ask the attention of our Newbern cotemporaries to the article of the Standard of to-day. Gov. Worth has the pledge of the general government to aid him in suppressing all disorder which the civil government cannot quell and remove, and he should know the facts.

BALTIMORE.—It is with heartfelt gratification that we announce the triumph of the Conservative ticket in Baltimore. Despite all the vile fraud and chicane of the Radicals, despite their bold and unblushing attempts to govern that great city by a pitiful minority, aided by ruffians and convicts, justice and right have achieved a triumph, which is the herald of better days to come.

This secures twenty-one members of the lower branch of the Legislature, and gives the control to the Conservatives beyond a doubt.

This ensures the election of a Conservative United States Senator in place of Mr. Creswell, and it drives a nail in the coffin of the Constitutional Amendment.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY Floridian attributes to the Sentinel the recent commendation, by the Standard, of Harper's Weekly, and proceeds to comment with just severity upon the endorsement. We beg our cotemporary to be a little more careful. If he ever reads the Sentinel at all, he must have known that we could be guilty of no such sanction of that filthy Radical publication.

THE NORTHERN elections, generally, have gone pretty much as we anticipated.

The Constitutional Amendment in South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C. Nov. 5, 1866.

Ex-Provisional Governor Perry publishes a long letter addressed to Charles W. Woodward, of Philadelphia, in reply to a letter from that gentleman, urging South Carolina to ratify the constitutional amendment. Governor Perry takes the ground that the Southern States may be ruined, but cannot be dishonored and disgraced except by their own acts. He expresses the conviction that the amendment can never gain the assent of three-fourths of the States. He reviews sections of the amendment seriatim, and gives his views against each at some length. He closes his letter in these words:—"Let me conclude by assuring you that as feeble as South Carolina may be, and as powerless as you say she is to protect herself, she is nevertheless able to maintain amid all her oppressions her honor unsullied, and will never voluntarily accept her own degradation."

The Constitutional Amendment in Georgia.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 5, 1866.

The constitutional amendment was referred to-day, in each House, with instructions to report as soon as practicable. A. H. Stephens opposes, and thinks the Legislature should act immediately on the subject, and settle the question so far as Georgia is concerned. The rejection of the amendment is deemed certain.

The radical press did not relish the "sauce" which was administered to Butler in his recent attempt to speak in the City Hall Park. When the radical rowdies interrupted the President in his speeches, on his tour, it inwardly chuckled. "Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

The old Queen City Hotel, in Charleston, was burned on Wednesday morning.

November Meteors—Letter from Professor Newton.

YALE COLLEGE, November 3, 1866.

EXTRACTS.

For the last three or four years there have been distinct indications of the return of the November meteors. This was particularly manifest last year, inasmuch as single observers, on the morning of the 13th of November, witnessed about seventy-five meteors per hour. A party of four persons, at New Haven, counted 238 in an hour, and a party at Greenwich observatory counted 250 in an hour. These numbers are probably five or six times as great as would be obtained on ordinary mornings.

We cannot predict with confidence a greater display this year. The thirty-three-year cycle ends in 1866, rather than 1865, and hence such a display may be looked for. But we must remember for many returns of the period since A. D. 902 we have no account of a corresponding shower.

But for the experience of last year the morning of November 14 would be named as the time to look for the meteors. But their occurrence then on the 13th, and not on the 14th, makes it necessary to look for them on either morning this year.

They cannot be expected in great abundance until the constellation Leo is above the horizon—that is, until after 11 o'clock. In previous displays, the maximum has usually been between 3 o'clock and dawn.

Previous displays have continued several hours, and have been visible over considerable regions. If the time of the shower falls this year between the mornings of the 13th and 14th, it may appear only to those on the other side of the earth. Thus, in 1832, the display was exclusively European, although we had clear skies, while in 1833 this continent alone enjoyed the exhibition. So, in 1799 a grand display was witnessed in America, while in Europe a few meteors only attracted the notice of observers.

Shooting stars appear in the upper regions of the atmosphere. They rarely descend below a height of thirty miles, and probably do not appear at a greater height than 125 miles. They move with great rapidity, having an average velocity of at least twenty-five miles a second, nearly or quite one hundred times the ordinary velocity of a cannon ball.

It is generally admitted that shooting stars are small bodies moving in orbits like planets or comets, which encounter the earth and are burned up, or are dissipated in the upper regions of the atmosphere. Groups of such bodies moving together in a common direction produce the August and November exhibitions.

The true November meteors proceed in lines radiating from the constellation Leo, or more exactly from the sickle in Leo. This radiation is due to perspective—the paths being all par allel to each other.

Abdication of Maximilian.

The long prophesied withdrawal of Maximilian from the imperial honors to which he was seduced by the Emperor of the French has at last taken place. We publish elsewhere the inteligence, which we have reason to believe authentic, of his departure from the City of Mexico, and of his expected arrival at Vera Cruz. By this time the Austrian steamer despatched for his accommodation has received him on board, and the late wearer of a crown that rested solely on French bayonets has left the unfriendly shore, to which he was never really invited, and where his presence was regarded as a standing menace to democratic institutions. For Maximilian, the Austrian prince, the American people have naught but good will; for the husband of the unfortunate Carlotta, the kindliest sympathy; but for Maximilian, the Mexican Emperor, it was impossible that they should have anything but aversion and hostile wishes. May prospering gales wait him safe home to the greetings of his ancestral friends, and to the embraces of a wife happily restored to her right mind!—Nat. Intelligencer.

SPORTS OF YOUTH.—A writer in the last number of Blackwood's Magazine says, that "the development of 'muscular' education, is beginning to attract a good deal of attention," and that "the gospel of athletics has been preached very energetically, and its missionaries may point to very considerable results in all quarters, whatever may be their weight, for good or evil."—The remark is made concerning England—but the same may be said in this country. Witness the base ball epidemic. Young men will have their sports and amusements, and the more healthful they are, the better. It is better for them to play base ball than to "practice" at bar rooms. It is better to be "excited" at a game of "athletics" than at a game of cards. It is better for them to play at base ball than at loo or whist. It is better for them to return to their homes wearied with the open sports of the field than to seek their dwellings overcome with the miserable potations of strong drink.—Therefore it is, that we heartily approve of all the manly exercises of young men, which will wean them from the bottle and the table. They may err in the too great display they may make of their sport, in the newspapers, but the results are all for good and not for evil.—Alexandria Gazette.

Mr. Wilmer McLean advertises for sale "the house in which General Lee surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia to General Grant, on the 9th of April 1865, at Appomattox Court house."

It is stated that Commodore Vanderbilt intends to retire from active business so soon as he obtains competence. His estate is now estimated at only fifty millions.

The War Department has called for 475,000 iron head blocks for the "National" cemeteries. Each to be inscribed with the name rank, regiment, arm, company and corps of the sleepers beneath, and the date of his death.

It is said, says the Avalanche, that President Johnson will visit Memphis in a few weeks.

Meredith P. Gentry, of Nashville, died Monday.

They are going to have a penitentiary in Columbia, S. C.

General G. T. Anderson is a candidate for Mayor of Atlanta.

We learn from Gov. Bullock that "by Divine favor the people of Massachusetts have enjoyed another year of peace." We hope they will allow their neighbors to enjoy the same blessing.

The World truly remarks, if the Radicals believe all that is published about the cruelty to freedmen in the South, it is the best evidence of the inefficiency of the Freedmen's Bureau, and that that incubus upon the South should at once be withdrawn.

Col. A. J. Fletcher, the Secretary of State of Tennessee, has been intrusted with a large portion of the executive business, owing to the feeble health of Gov. Brownlow, and the Nashville Staats Zeitung earnestly recommends him as the Radical candidate for Governor at the next election.

NEW YORK LETTER.

Trade and Finance—The Crash Coming—"Cornering" Another Name for Swindling—The National Banks—The Rush of Operators into Wall Street—Business at the South—Mr. Peabody and the Radicals.

(Correspondence Richmond Examiner.)

NEW YORK, NOV. 5, 1866.

In this city during the last few days political affairs have been secondary, in the minds of most men, to the more tangible and more obviously urgent questions of trade and finance.—The conviction gains ground that we are on the eve of very serious embarrassment. The trade of the city, generally speaking, is now worse than it has been since 1857. All branches of business feel the depression—some of them to an extent that threatens ruin. Importers and manufacturers complain of more than dullness, for beside being unable to lighten their stocks, they experience difficulty in making the usual collections. Hence the ominous renewals of paper, much of it at comparatively long dates. Nor is this suggestive circumstance discernible only here. The same complaint is heard at Philadelphia, where a perceptible increase in the amount of six months' paper, emanating from dry goods commission houses, begins to excite uneasiness. The willingness to grant credits running half a year has been one of the signs of our commercial recklessness; and the fact that in many cases an extension for a similar period has become necessary indicates an unsound state of affairs. Enormous stocks, expanded credit, and disappointment in regard to Southern collections, are premonitions of evil not to be spoken of lightly. They tell of the crash that is coming. This time, as at other times, the crash will begin with the dry goods houses. And experience has shown that when a few large dry goods concerns topple over, other branches are not far removed from danger.

Inflation and gambling speculation are widely ramified. The grain, pork and butter trades are at this moment subject to unhealthy activity. In these, as in nearly all other branches, "corners" are in vogue, and "cornering" is but another term for swindling, with bankruptcy as a probable result. Inquiries amongst commission houses have satisfied me that but for fraudulent combinations and contrivances, butter would fall to less than two-thirds of its present price. Pork has been kept up by the tricks of a few large operators, who seem likely to suffer severely for their pains. The enormous quantity held by one or two firms renders a maintenance of the present price impossible. There has been a large fall within the last few days, and within the next ninety days the fall will be yet greater. Of the speculation in grain you may judge when I inform you that the Chicago banks now exact a margin of about forty per cent. on grain paper, instead of ten per cent, as usual.

The wild speculation now in progress bodes no good to the National banks. They may ride through difficulties for a season because of their exception from specie payments, but depend upon it, there will be trouble amongst them before the winter is ended. The hazardous nature of their business may be inferred from their enormous profits. One of the banks of this city has paid twenty per cent. in dividends this year, besides adding ten per cent. to its surplus, which stands at $300,000, while the original capital was but $500,000. The paper money bubble must burst some day. This National banking system, as we see it at the North, is a huge contrivance for fostering inflation of all kinds. And though there can be no run for gold as in olden days, there may be collapses, and then how will the National securities maintain their ground?

If aught were required to show the impurities of our business atmosphere, it might be traced in the rush of "operators" into Wall street. There extraordinary activity prevails; railway stocks that are intrinsically valueless, (because representing roads overburdened with bonded debt,) are up in the clouds; and other stocks, of which nothing good is known, are bought and sold with an eagerness that implies a thoughtlessness not far removed from desperation. People speculate now who never in their lives speculated before. And why? Simply with a vain hope to retrieve, by a lucky throw of the Wall street dice, the means lost in legitimate trade. Manufacturers and merchants, large and small, try to escape from the consequences of depression by dabbling in stocks.—Something they must do, or nothing can save them. The enormous rents, the high salaries and wages, the general, all pervading extravagance of home life, form a load which only rich men can hope long to endure. Hence the multitude, having nothing else to do, go down to Wall street to avert business perdition. I apprehend that more will lose than gain by the effort.

Business prospects at the South are a specific cause of anxiety, which is more or less tinged with a political coloring. It is not creditable, however, to the sagacity of the Northern people, that, while beginning to realize the material injury resulting from the disorganized state of the Union, they fail to perceive the necessity of adapting their partisan requirements to the disposition and circumstances of the South. They perceive that so long as the status of the South continues undetermined, so long the commerce of the country must be subject to contingencies pregnant with peril. You may every day hear our traders expressing a wish that old relations were restored for business purposes: yet these are the individuals who are loudest in the utterance of the Radical demands.

For my part, I am naughty enough to think that a real good old fashioned business crisis will be a blessing to the North. The idea of an extended crash is not pleasant. All of us must suffer under it, and not a few of us be crushed. But, after all, the good will be greater than the evil; for, by no other process, that I can imagine, will the great curse of inflation be destroyed. Rents must come down; the cost of living must be reduced; the huge paper money swindle must come to an end; and nothing short of an old fashioned smash will accomplish these ends. Moreover, the North must be taught that the two sections have business interests which should outweigh sectional hate; that the South cannot be borne down without entailing loss and suffering upon its Northern dealers and customers. In this way, and this alone, may the madness of Radical fanaticism be counteracted; and a smash will teach the lessons more effectually than the finest rhetoric.

If you need an illustration of the prying intolerance of the prevailing cant about "loyalty," you have it in the case of Mr. Peabody, whose broad and munificent philanthrophy does not protect him from the malignity of certain Radical prints. Not being addicted to hero-worship, I neither bend the knee nor cross myself when the name of Peabody is heard. Yet, surely, if there is any man living whose unobtrusive generosity and goodness should secure for him the respect of every American, it is this gentleman. He is, nevertheless, singled out for attack because of alleged sympathies with the South during its struggle. "He was in full sympathy with the rebellion," is the charge upon which the Radical press demands a verdict against him. His holy deeds go for nothing; his unbroken attachment to his native land ranted as a poor pretence, and all because his "loyalty" does not come up to the Radical standard. From such liberalism and loyalty, may Heaven deliver us!

MARRIED,

GAS.—This article, on account of its superiority as a source of light, over other things, and its greater convenience and safety, is almost indispensable to families, merchants and tradesmen who have used it. It is exceedingly inconvenient to do without it. This community is under obligations to the Gas Company, which is composed of a number of our best citizens, for the convenience it has afforded it.

Recently, we have heard much complaint both in regard to the price charged for it, and the impression that serious mistakes have occurred in estimating the amount burned by our citizens. Some time ago, we gave utterance to those complaints at the request of respectable citizens, with the view of calling out proper information upon the subject, in order to correct mistakes or erroneous impressions, if any existed.

Finding those complaints still existing among our people, we are glad to be able, on inquiry, to present some facts which ought to be considered.

The Gas Company, whatever may be believed, we are assured, has made nothing, comparatively, out of this community. It perhaps owes more now than its members have ever received from it. Messrs. Waterhouse & Bowes, who have run it until recently, we are told, were broken by it and their other operations. During the entire war it furnished light to the city at a loss to the operators. Rosin gas is perhaps three or four times as expensive to make here as the coal gas is in the Northern cities. The patronage of Gas Companies in the North is from five to ten times as great as in this City.—This makes a material difference in price.

Before the war, the Company and the operators probably made something. Then, if we recollect correctly, the charge was $6 per 1000 feet, but during that time the price of rosin ranged from 50 cts. to a dollar per barrel. Now, rosin ranges from three to four dollars in green backs and they charge $10 in green backs.—Those who know, say that the Company is making but little at that price.

It is well known that the gentlemen who compose the Company are not disposed to make exorbitant charges. They are not speculators, but honest citizens who keep it up more for the accommodation of the public, and their own private use, than for any profit they may make. We are assured that prices are not kept up to make large dividends, as any one can learn by applying to the office of the Company for information. The price of gas will be reduced whenever the Company can do it without injury to itself. If mistakes occur or are suspected, complaint should be made at the office of the Company, and not at the gas house, or to the Collector. In the meantime, we trust that the Company will endeavor, as we have no doubt it will, to reduce the price of gas and apply the remedy to the correction of all complaint.

We need the gas. Many cannot do well without it, and the Gas Company must be sustained in keeping it up on the best terms. We have made these statements on our own responsibility, and not at the request of any one, hoping that they may do good.

MUSICAL EXHIBITION.—We learn, from the excellent Principal of the Institution of the Deaf, the Dumb and the Blind, W. J. Palmer, Esq., that a free Musical exhibition will be given at the Institution to-morrow (Friday) evening, for the gratification of our citizens. The pupils will be assisted by Mr. H. E. Matthews, with his fine instrument, Mason and Hamlin's Cabinet Organ.

COTTON.—This article continues to come in, and prices have been well sustained. For some days prices have ranged at 31 cents nett. To-day, 32 was asked and 31 offered. This is nett, the tax being paid by the buyer.

CHANGE.—We learn that Gen. Sickles retires from the command of the Department of the Carolinas, and that Gen. Robinson, of this Division, succeeds him. Gen Robinson leaves this city to-morrow for Charleston, and Col. Bomford succeeds him in command here.

THE EYE AND EAR.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Gardner, Oculist and Aurist, (formerly of London,) now of New York, who will be at the EXCHANGE HOTEL, on Saturday, Nov. 24th., and remain until Thursday, the 29th. After that time, he will visit Raleigh monthly, of which due notice will be given.—The Dr. comes highly recommended by the press of the different cities he has visited. Those who require medical or surgical aid for defective sight or hearing should avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief, by consulting Dr. Gardner.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Nov. 7th. 1866.—B. R. Hinner, Perry Godwin, N. C.; J F M Robertson, P Amos, Madison; Dr A B Chapin, Rock Island; B F Hawkins, Louisburg; G V Hunter, A Greenwood, B V Norwood and wife, M R Clapp, N Y; E B Whitman, Baltimore; D D Fitzgerald, Norfolk; Miss Toomey, Tarboro; Jas. D Lorah, Petersburg, Va.; Capt. Shaffer and Lady, Salisbury, N C; Capt. Pierce, Wake County.

OUR HOTELS AND BOARDING HOUSES.—The Editor of the Old North State, who has just returned to his post, after a flying visit to this City, speaks in the following flattering terms of the "Exchange" and some of our private boarding-houses:

"We stopped at the "Exchange" Hotel, now kept by Mr. J. M. Blair, late of the "Mountain House," Asheville, N. C. In former times we had boarded at the "Exchange" during two sessions of the Legislature, and then thought it a good house. But now, it scarcely bears any resemblance to its former self, except in external appearance. The floors have all been nicely carpeted, the walls neatly papered, and the rooms furnished with entirely new furniture.—It is now, beyond question, one of the very best houses in the Southern country in every point of view—its table being quite equal to everything else in excellence. And we have never met a kinder or more accommodating host than Mr. Blair. He spares no pains to make his guests feel perfectly at home, and we can say to our friends who visit Raleigh that if they stop at the "Exchange" they will not go away disappointed.

During our visit we called on our old friend Mrs. Whiting, well and favorably known throughout the State as the keeper of one of the very best private boarding houses in the city. For a number of years she has been in the habit of boarding ten or twelve members of the Legislature, and she informed us that she wished to take that many or more during the ensuing session. We do not hesitate to say to our friends, who are members of the Legislature, that they cannot secure more comfortable quarters anywhere in the city than at Mrs. Whiting's. What we have said of Mrs. Whiting, we also say of our old and most estimable landlady, Mrs. J. D. Pullen."

State News.

——Bishop Pierce, of the M. E. Church, preached to large congregations in Wilmington, on Sunday last. Although suffering from severe indisposition, the sermons of this eminent Divine are spoken of as full of eloquence and power.

——The Police of Wilmington made their appearance, on Tuesday, in handsome new uniforms.

——The Editor of the Old North State, speaking of a late visit to Raleigh, says:

"The people of Raleigh, some of them at least, complained of the hardness of the times, but we cannot understand why. Never before have we seen so many goods in Raleigh, and never before has there been as much business done there as at this time. Many of the merchants there have gone North for a second supply of Fall and Winter goods. This fact, of itself, affords ample proof that they have some money there. Raleigh has some advantages which are not common to the other inland towns of the State. The State government is located there, and most of its disbursements redound to the advantage of the people of Raleigh. The Federal government also makes some disbursements there. These are not the sole causes of its present activity in business. Wake is a cotton growing county, and the amount of cotton now being sold daily in the city amounts to about fifty bales. But from whatever causes it may arise, there can be no doubt that, as compared with us, they are at this time in a most prosperous and flourishing condition."

——The Hillsboro' Recorder gives an account of an unfortunate accident in that place a few nights since, at the residence of Mr. C. C. Tinnen. He was aroused by a great noise in his kitchen about mid-night, and went out, gun in hand, to ascertain the cause. He knocked at the door, which was not opened until he threatened to break it open. After entering, to frighten the negroes who were collected into order, he fired out of the window, thinking, as it was high above the ground, he could hurt no one. It was not until after he had retired to his bed that he was informed that the ball from his gun had seriously hurt a man, when he expressed deep regret that it was so, and immediately sent off for Dr. Woods and Dr. Strudwick, but the wounded man died in a few hours, the ball having shattered his knee in a dreadful manner. The coroner's jury, called to examine the case, returned a verdict in conformity with these facts, considering it an accidental shooting, without any purpose of inflicting an injury.

——The Fayetteville News says:

"The citizens of Fayetteville have carried on a brisk and profitable trade within the past eighteen months, and have to day access to two articles of commerce thrown upon this market which rank first in importance of all the products of the soil, cotton and naval stores. The appearance of Hay and Person Sts. in the morning, from sunrise to nine o'clock, is not discouraging; scores of carts, all loaded with naval stores, and numbering more than one hundred, very frequently, invite the attention of buyers, and it is useless to say that the transactions consequent upon this state of affairs do not involve the operations and interchange of money.

Many of the best farmers in this and the surrounding counties are becoming convinced of the practicability of raising fair crops of cotton on their corn lands, and we think it reasonable to expect to see more cotton in the Fayetteville market next year than has ever been seen before."

The Indiana Supreme Court has decided that the "black" article in the Constitution of that State is void, as being in conflict with the National Constitution, and that any citizen of the United States, who has resided in Indiana for six months, no matter what his color may be, is a citizen of the State.

Our Thursday Morning Dispatches.

The State Elections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7, P. M.

Gov. Fenton's majority will probably reach 13,000. The Congressional representation will stand the same as in the present Congress.

Returns from Illinois indicate that the State has certainly given a Republican majority of upwards of 40,000.

The Republicans have carried every State that voted yesterday by increased majorities, with the exception of Maryland and Delaware, which show large Conservative gains.

Markets and Financial.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. P. M.

Gold $1.47. Coupons of '62 $110¼. Do of '65, new issue, $110. Do of '64 $107¾. Tens $100¾.

Cotton dull at 38¼ for uplands. Flour dull. Wheat 1a2 lower. Pork heavy at $28.12. Lard quiet and firm.

Naval Stores dull. Turpentine 76a79. Rosin $5.50a$13.

The statement of the public debt, for the present month, compared with the last, shows that, during October, it was decreased $2,206,935,96.

Fenians.

TORONTO, Nov. 7.

The Fenian trials have been laid over until to-morrow, on account of witnesses being absent.

Father McMahon and Col. Lynch, under sentence of death, have determined to make an appeal for a new trial.

Our Afternoon Dispatches.

Latest Markets and Financial.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8, M.

Gold $1.46¾. Exchange 9¼.

Cotton quiet 38@39. Flour drooping $12.-40@$17.25. Wheat dull, 3@5 lower.

Pork $27.50. Lard 14@15¼.

MOBILE, Nov. 7, P. M.

Cotton sales, to-day, 800 bales middling at 36. Market rather easier.

From Europe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.

The Herald has the following specials:

LONDON, Nov. 6, P. M.

American bonds ruled this morning at 68 a 68¼. Erie shares ¼ per cent lower.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 6, P. M.

Cotton market opened at rates of last evening. Orleans middling 15¼.

From Canada.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.

The Fenian trials were resumed this morning. R. McKenzie and J. J Fleming appeared in behalf of the American government. The American consul was also present.

Jno. Stevens, a deaf man, was placed on trial, and, after the examination of several witnesses, who testified to having seen him carrying a rifle at Fort Erie, the Judge summed up the case, and the Jury, after a short absence, brought in a verdict of guilty.

He was sentenced to be hung Dec. 13th.

The Mexican Embassy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.

Edw. L. Plum, Secretary of Legation to Mexico, in company with Gen. Sherman's Chief of Staff, left here to-day for New York, where they will await the arrival of Minister Campbell and Gen. Sherman. They are expected in New York to-morrow or next day. The entire party will probably sail for Vera Cruz on Saturday upon the U. S. Steamer Susquehanna.

Special Notices.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

"Dr. Gardner's treatment of the eye and ear is wonderful."—Richmond Enquirer.

"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.

"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.

The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too patent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all that it has ever done.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our American Almanac in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an alterative medicine to purify the blood will find AYER'S COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value.

New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a lusty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonials

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 13th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The Lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS.—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required, and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

Ex'r Dr. H. J. Davis.

General Agent,

For the State of North Carolina, Petersburg, Va., and surrounding Counties.

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

VALUABLE PLANTATION FOR SALE!

ON THE SECOND THURSDAY IN DECEMBER, that being the 13th day of the month, I will sell to the highest bidder, upon the premises, that desirable lately owned, and resided upon, by Miss Elizabeth Hinton, dec'd.

COTTON PLANTATION,

The tract is situated on Neuse River, six miles East of Raleigh, on the Tarboro' Road, adjoining the lands of David Hinton. It contains from of land,—from THREE TO FOUR HUNDRED of which are cleared. About 100 acres are fine low grounds, not liable to over-flow. This is considered one of the best Cotton Plantations in the County, and the bottom land will always produce enough Corn to sustain it.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

consist of a handsome Dwelling House, containing seven rooms, located on a commanding site. There are three frame houses also on the premises, with two rooms each, and all necessary out-houses, cabins, barns, gin house, carriage house, &c.

As this land will be sold on the liberal credit of only one-third cash, the balance payable in one, two and three years, a rare opportunity is afforded to parties wishing to purchase a first-class farm.

Personal security will be required, and title will be with-held until the last payment is made.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS,

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb-street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market. McILWAINE & CO.
